The competition takes place under Table A, not against the clock, at a speed of 350m per minute. Competitors must jump the course with each of the four horses qualified for this Final, starting with their own and following with the order shown in the table above.

If a competitor has an accident during the Final preventing them from continuing, but the horse is able to continue, the horse must compete in all the rounds with the other finalists. If a competitor is eliminated or retires and does not complete one round for any reason, the rider will be awarded the same number of penalties as that incurred by the competitor who has been the most severely penalized during the same round, plus 20 penalties. If the competitor who is eliminated, or voluntarily retired, received the highest number of penalties before being eliminated or retiring, then 20 penalties will be added to their score for that round.

If a horse is not fit to participate in the second, third or fourth round, the results it has obtained so far, except its result in the first round, are cancelled. The competitor of the horse that is unable to continue will not participate in the fourth round. In this case, the total result of each competitor is determined over three rounds, one on their own horse and two on other horses.

Schooling the Horses for the Final

Each competitor in the final will use the exercise or the schooling area to school their own horse. The competitors may school the other horses to be ridden in subsequent rounds, for 2 minutes in a special enclosure built in the main arena in which there will be a vertical and spread practice obstacle.

After the first round, each finalist remains in the enclosure with their horse.

Except for Officials, the only people allowed inside the enclosure are the competitors and their trainer and groom for each horse taking part. After each competitor has finished the course with their own horse, they may school the horse they are to ride in the next round. The two-minute period will start when the competitor mounts the horse. The time used in the two-minute period must be shown on the scoreboard or another display beside the arena, clearly visible for the competitor. The end of this time will be announced to the competitor by ringing the bell. The competitor may only jump the vertical obstacle once and the spread obstacle once or the same obstacle twice.

Saddlery for the Final

Competitors are allowed to change the saddle, but the horses must always be ridden in the same bridle, bit and boots as in the last qualifying competition (3rd individual competition) before the Final.
